Colosseum

An aerial photograph of the Forum of Augustus in Rome, Italy. The image shows the ruins of several ancient Roman structures. In the foreground, there are scattered stone blocks and a small, modern-looking structure with a grey roof. In the middle ground, the Temple of Vespasian is visible, characterized by its tall, fluted columns. In the background, the Temple of Jupiter stands on a raised platform, with its columns still standing. The surrounding area is a mix of green grass and archaeological remains, with modern buildings visible in the distance.

MAIN ISSUE

- 1. Gospel going to Gentiles
- 2. Israel as God's chosen people
- 3. Gentiles coming to God apart from Law

The background of the slide is a photograph of ancient ruins, likely the Temple of Apollo in Side, Turkey. It shows a long, straight path lined with tall, fluted stone columns. In the distance, a large mountain rises against a clear sky. The overall scene is one of historical grandeur and decay.
